Equality Gym
Dedication a
Huge Success

Legion Post
Donates $500; Raise
$900 for Equipment

With nearly the entire community turning out in support, Equality's high school gymnasium dedication program was a huge success last night, and more than $900 was raised for needed equipment.

Largest single contribution was a $500 donation made by the Equality American Legion post. Ticket sales, advertisements, concession sales and "loose change" collection amounted to more than $400.

The violent windstorm of June 13, 1953, which totally destroyed the old Equality gym finished off the then newly purchased stage curtains, a piano, scoreboard, backboards, time clock, etc. Last night's program proceeds were earmarked to defray the cost of some of these much needed items. A new scoreboard and time clock, new backboards, and new mats were already in use.

Bob Wathen was in charge of the program. Following a short welcoming by Principal Harry Walker, and introductions by Wathen, the entire group sang the National Anthem. A basketball game between this year's Equality senior boys and some former Cardinal grade stars then assumed the spotlight.

The first half of this game was interrupted by a talent show, emceed by the Rev. J. K. Gannett. Participating were the Mahan girls, Joyce Brinkley and Harold Bean. Between the third and fourth quarters, another group of talented musicians performed. This group included a trumpet trio, Gary Payne and the Hines trio. Several other entertainers were on hand to give of their services, providing fun and music for the spectators.

Joining with the Equality high school band were several old-timers of the famed Equality town-band of yesteryears. They were Dave Beverly, George and Charlie Guard, Noble Pearce, Frank White and Guy Malin.

The basketball team of former stars was composed of men who played at Equality in 1931, '34 and '39. Aiding the seniors of this year were some members of last year's quintet and Coach "Kay" Willis.

The American Legion check was presented toward the close of the program, and prior to the final number, Mr. Walker gave his report of total proceeds.

Police Chief Warns
Against Halloween
Prank Vandalism

Chief of Police Loren Travelstead this morning issued a warning against Halloween pranks, particularly vandalism and destruction of property.

"We stated the police department had received several complaints about buildings being toppled. Owners have a right to protect their property, and someone may get hurt," the chief said, adding that anyone caught could be charged with damaging property and brought before the city court.

Eisenhower
Takes Charge of GOP Campaign

Says Democratic
Victory Will Start
Political Cold War

DENVER (UP)—President Eisenhower took command of the Republican campaign for control of Congress Friday night with the stern warning that a Democratic victory in the Nov. 2 elections would start "a cold war of partisan party politics."

The President stepped into the off-year election campaign with a speech in the City Auditorium at a giant Republican Precinct Day rally.

He urged party workers to make an all-out effort to enlist bipartisan support for all GOP candidates.

"You citizens are on the political front lines—the precincts of America," he said in his nationally televised and broadcast address to 26,500 separate GOP rallies across the nation.

Top Republican leaders who were with him while he spoke, applauded the President's two-fisted approach to the 1954 campaign.

Reviews Administration
In a review of the first 20 months of his administration, the chief executive said his program was one of "continuous and simultaneous study and action." And the best interests of the nation made it essential that his administration plans go forward.

Mr. Eisenhower said history had shown that "You cannot have efficient government when the Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another."

Denies Inflation
Mr. Eisenhower said the economy was not inflated and not based on "the sacrifices of the battle-field."

"Without the economic collapse forecast by professional pessimists our nation has moved from war to peace," he said.

The President dwelt on the way his administration handled the Communist menace with "no vacillation or inaction." Foreign affairs were greatly improved, he said. He also praised Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' accomplishments toward peace and security in the Western world.

But still to be provided, he said, are more jobs, lower taxes and an improved farm program, better highways and expanded foreign trade.

Vice President Richard Nixon said the meeting was "without doubt the greatest political rally in the history of America." Earlier Nixon said it would furnish "a shot in the arm" for the Republican congressional campaign.

The vice president said Mr. Eisenhower probably would make a farm speech somewhere in the Midwest before the election, but did not announce a time or place.

Tongay Denies Being Ordered from Bahamas

MIAMI (UP)—Russell Tongay, hefty ex-Coast Guardsman sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter in the death of his five-year-old swimming star daughter, Kathy, denies he was evicted from the Bahamas as an "undesirable."

Tongay arrived in Miami Friday with his eight-year-old son, Bubbar, from Nassau where he had been staying since Tuesday. He was reported to have been ordered to leave the island and officials said Friday deportation papers were ready to be served on Tongay if he refused to go.

Blast in German
Plant Believed Plot
To Kill Molotov

HAMBURG, Germany (UP)—A blast furnace exploded in a big East German steel mill 20 minutes after Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov inspected the plant Friday, the Hamburg newspaper Abendblatt said today.

The newspaper in a dispatch from Berlin said the explosion appeared to be the result of a plot against the Soviet leader. Molotov is visiting Communist East Germany during celebrations marking the fifth anniversary of the founding of the puppet state.

Western allied and German sources in Berlin who are kept informed of Soviet Zone events said they had received no such report and placed no credence in the newspaper report.

Molotov was not injured, the newspaper reported, but 10 workers were injured, five seriously. The explosion occurred at the "Stalin" steelworks in Stalinstadt, one of the showplaces of the East German satellite state.

GOP Cheers Eisenhower
Appeal; Democrat Says
Administration 'Befuddled'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican faithful today cheered President Eisenhower's call for the election of a GOP Congress but a Democratic leader said the administration is "bewitched, befuddled and bewildered."

Two Republican senators quickly backed up Mr. Eisenhower's declaration that a GOP victory Nov. 2 is needed to prevent "a cold war of partisan power politics" between the executive and Congress.

"It is vital that the administration have control of Congress so there can be no attempt to scuttle its program for political gain," said Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) said "There is no question in my mind that the American people will retain Republican control of Congress."

Speaks To TV Audience
Mr. Eisenhower spoke to a nationwide radio-television audience Friday night from Denver. The President, watched and heard by an estimated two million GOP party workers across the nation, spoke in connection with Republican "Precinct Day."

Urging Republican workers to strive harder to keep the House and Senate in GOP hands, Mr. Eisenhower said "You cannot have efficient government when Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another."

There was no immediate comment from Democratic headquarters. But Sen. Earle C. Clements of Kentucky, Democratic whip in the Senate and chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Committee, roared Mr. Eisenhower's administration in a speech to the Democratic Women's Clubs of his state.

Clements said the administration foreign policy is one of "bluff and reappraise, bluff and reappraise."

In the administration's domestic policy, Clements said that "demagogues preaching fear have replaced statesmen talking sense." He said the Republicans have been unable to cope with the unemployment problem.

"Faced with unemployed Americans, they seem to be bewitched, befuddled and bewildered," Clements declared.

The Republicans were split over Mr. Eisenhower's "hands off" attitude toward individual congressional races. House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. made it clear he thought Mr. Eisenhower should participate in individual battles in behalf of GOP candidates.

Nixon Backs Ike
Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a top Republican campaigner, and GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said previously they thought the President was right.

Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, had more sharp words for the administration Friday at Oklahoma City. He said if he had been elected two years ago the nation "could have had a more firm, positive and coherent foreign policy."

Hurricane Hazel
Injures Crewman
Of Navy Plane

MIAMI (UP)—A mighty hurricane barreled over the central Caribbean with 125-mile-per-hour winds today and the Navy decided it was too dangerous to send hurricane hunter planes into its center again.

"This is a very dangerous hurricane and all vessels in the central Caribbean should exercise caution," a 5 a. m. advisory warned.

Hurricane Hazel's center was estimated at about 360 miles south-east of Kingston, Jamaica, and was moving west to west-northwest at about 8 miles per hour. All small craft in Jamaica were warned to remain in port.

Hazel already had injured one victim, a crewman of a Navy hurricane hunter plane which flew into the center Friday. The Navy at Jacksonville, Fla., identified the injured man as Burbank Mitchell, Syracuse, N. Y., a Navy photographer.

Mitchell dislocated his shoulder while attempting to take motion pictures as his plane fought its way through the "hurricane wall." He was slammed against the side of the lurching aircraft.

Russia Favors
Inspection of Weapons: Gromyko

MOSCOW (UP)—Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said Friday night that the Soviet Union now favors "effective inspection" by an international atomic weapon control organ as part of an international disarmament treaty.

Gromyko spoke informally at a reception given by U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen at his official residence in Moscow, Spaso House.

The deputy foreign minister emphasized that the Soviets have dropped their demand for a ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons before they negotiate a disarmament agreement with the West.

Present at the reception were two visiting American congressmen, Reps. Laurie C. Battle (D-Ala.) and O. C. Fisher (D-Tex.). Battle drafted the U. S. embargo on shipment of strategic goods behind the Iron Curtain.

Meek Hits Gov't
Aid; Douglas
Attacks Tax Bill

By United Press
Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, said today the American people should reject "the government crutch, the philosophy of the handout" as he carried his campaign into Bureau county.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Meek's November 2 Democratic opponent, meanwhile ripped the administration's tax bill as a "bitter pill of huge concessions to the corporations."

"I cannot subscribe to the philosophy of the handout," Meek said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Bureau County Republican Women's Club at Princeton.

"I would refuse the government crutch, even though it might temporarily aid those near to me," Meek said.

"Every day that we get away from habits of dependency the stronger our nation will be and the less will be bureaucratic domination over our lives," said Meek.

"There are limited areas," he said, "where government can and must do the job. These are where the demand is so proper and so general and the unavailability of private means so obvious that government may enter in to provide services, alleviate human misery or expedite private contributions."

Hits Minor Tax Cuts
Meek is being accompanied on his campaign caravan by Warren Wright, Republican candidate for state treasurer, and Vernon L. Nickell, GOP candidate for superintendent of public instruction.

Douglas attacked the administration tax bill in a speech to the Chicago Photo Engravers' Union, Local 5.

"The real benefits of the new tax bill went primarily to only 1 per cent of American families," Douglas said.

"The other 99 per cent, by and large, must pay just about as stiff a tax bill as they ever did, but their living costs are on the roof," he said.

"It is true," Douglas said, "that the lobbyists and the special interests threw the average family a fish. There were some minor tax cuts for working mothers... those with children in college, and those who have heavy medical expenses..."

But they only amounted to one-eighth of the new tax benefits. The other seven-eighths went to American corporations and their stockholders."

Says Isolation
Would Permit
Red Expansion

Statesman Says
He Will Continue to Seek Co-Existence

BLACKPOOL, England (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned today American withdrawal into "isolationism" would condemn all Europe to Russian Communist subjugation and our famous and beloved island to death and ruin.

The 79-year-old statesman who has been rumored to be preparing to retire told his Conservative Party convention "while I have life and strength I shall persevere" in an attempt to assure "peaceful co-existence" with the Soviet Union.

Churchill spoke to 4,000 cheering party delegates on the 14th anniversary of his ascension to Tory leadership.

The London nine-power conference on German rearmament, he said, "may well become a monument and a milestone in our march toward that peaceful co-existence during which the lasting peace which is our heart's desire may find its sure foundation."

He said that without United States help in protecting Europe "the advance of Soviet communism which has already swallowed the satellite nations should continue resistibly by infiltration and intrigue with force in the background until despair produced a landslide into submission."

"I have always thought that growth of ever-closer ties with the United States to whom we and sister Commonwealth nations are bound by language, literature and the supreme factor in our future and that together we may make the world safe for ourselves and everybody else," he said.

In warm praise of the United States, he said "there is no other case of a nation arriving at the summit of world power, seeking no territorial gain, but earnestly resolved to use her strength and wealth in the cause of progress and freedom."

Had this conception been visible to the American government 50 years ago, we all, ourselves included, might have escaped the two fearful world wars which have brought such misery upon our generation and made the 20th century on a far larger scale the most tragic period since the fall of the Roman Empire, 1,500 years ago," he said.

"For America to withdraw into isolation would condemn all Europe into Russian Communist subjugation and our famous and beloved island to death and ruin," he declared.

Then Churchill turned to a bitter attack on left-wing Laborite leader Aneurin Bevan.

"And yet six months ago, a politician who held office in a British opposition, who one day aspires to become leader of the Labor Party, did not hesitate to tell the Americans to 'go it alone,'" the prime minister said.

Nevada Voters
Must Select
McCarran Successor

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UP)—The Nevada Supreme Court ruled today that the state's 102,242 registered voters must select a successor to the late Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran.

The decision meant newly appointed Republican Sen. Ernest S. Bible must face Democrat Alan Bible, a popular former attorney general, for the unexpired balance of McCarran's term in the Nov. 2 general election—a bare 25 days away. Both men are Reno attorneys.

It ended a week-long legal battle between Nevada Republicans and Democrats over the Senate seat. McCarran died of a heart attack Sept. 28. He faced re-election in 1956.

A SUCKER FOR A PRETTY FACE—Life has its lovely moments, even for calves. MGM Starlet Rota Lee, vacationing on a Tucson, Ariz., guest ranch, found her favorite chore was tending bottle for a herd of hungry, bawling calves.

THE STORY: Everyone seems to be lying without reason, Jim Dunn thinks after the sheriff arrives to investigate the death of Mrs. Angelica Jones, whose body was found in the cellar of a mountain lodge occupied by Jim's client, a private detective, and his wife had been posing as caretakers at the lodge while working for Mrs. Kit Carlson, who thinks she is suspected of what may be an unsolved murder on the West Coast. Miss Wister, Dunn's secretary, arrives unexpectedly and seems not to be telling the truth about her association with Angelica. And even the woman sheriff, Mrs. Tolay Argyle, seems strangely pre-occupied.

"Think of it," Mrs. Gelstrap said. "A lady sheriff." She licked her lips, appeared happier. The aroma of good whiskey was heavy, but the cook appeared in full possession of her faculties.

"In a hurry to clean up, weren't you?" Agnes Argyle demanded.

"I'm always cleaning up," Mrs. Gelstrap whined. "You ought to know how it is with housework. Let it get ahead of you and it's always ahead. And I'm not one to let things go. The missus likes things neat and clean. And I try to oblige, I'm sure."

"Your missus is still sleeping?"

"She's had a little-bitty pill. Poor thing. When Mr. Dunn came breaking in with the news she was shocked. I had to give her a little pill."

"I didn't break in," Jim said. "The kitchen door was unlocked."

"Locked. I guess I ought to know. I locked it myself."

"You were plastered," Jim said bluntly. He turned to the sheriff. "The kitchen door was unlocked, and Mrs. Gelstrap was passed out at the kitchen table."

Mrs. Gelstrap objected. "Some people don't want other people to have any rest at all. Maybe I did have a little drink. What of it?"

Agnes Argyle asked, "Did you go to the basement at any time during the night?"

"I should say not. I wouldn't go down there after dark for all the money in the world."

"And your boss?"

"She slept right through. After I finally got her to take the pills."

Jim smiled grimly. Perhaps it was not unfair, after all. Agnes Argyle listened to whole tissues of lies without batting an eyelash. Her questioning of the truth might be logical.

"I should have remembered about the phone," Jim said. "I forgot it was necessary to turn the little crank to call central. Maybe it was the French-type phone that threw me off. Anyway that happened. And I didn't touch anything in the basement. I did not pull the body out from under the elevator platform. I did not raise that platform."

"Somebody did," Sheriff Agnes said. She looked thoughtfully at Miss Wister and Mrs. Gelstrap. "Possibly somebody attempted to help Angelica Jones. There's no reason that shouldn't be admitted, is there?"

"It could have been. Another accident. Probably if the body had not been moved I would have considered the death accidental."

Jim's mind fastened on her use of the word "another." So the Junction Creek sheriff knew of the California death?

KILLS BUGS WITH VIRUS
Virus sprays promise cheap, easy control of alfalfa caterpillars, a serious pest in California this year. About a pint will treat 50 acres, and the residue is not harmful to man or livestock. It takes 4 to 7 days for an effective kill, says Capper's Farmer. Diseased caterpillars spread the virus to pests that move into the field later, so the control is long-lasting.

Farm Economist Sees Gain In Storing Corn on Farms

A University of Illinois farm economist said this week that he expects the price of corn to go up enough in the 1954-55 marketing season to make storage on the farm moderately attractive to Illinois farmers.

In a special report prepared for Prairie Farmer magazine, L. J. Norton of the University's College of Agriculture said a special study of corn price trends showed that during the 15-year period from 1938 to 1951 the average increase in the farm price of corn was 13.5 cents a bushel for the period from November to May. On most farms the storage cost during this same period amounted to around 13.2 cents a bushel.

Buy Feeders To Suit Needs

The amount of feed you have on your farm or want to buy and the time you want to market should largely tell you what kind of feeder or feeders to buy.

H. G. Russell, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that steer calves will need silage or good hay for roughage. They will also need good pasture for next year if you want to graze them. And they will need grain to finish them for market.

Steer calves may profitably use a large amount of good roughage and good pasture if you winter them well. On the other hand, it usually doesn't pay to graze heifer calves except for a short time in the fall after they arrive on your farm.

Choice-quality heifer calves should be fat and ready to market in the late spring or early summer, Russell points out. That means that you should start them on full feed any time from November to January.

Head common or medium cattle that you buy this fall for late winter or early spring market, the specialist suggests, because they usually bring the highest prices then. Silage fits especially well into this feeding program.

Good to choice steers should be fat and ready for market in late summer and early fall, when they normally sell best. Yearling steers will usually be ready to market before steer calves of the same quality because they start more weight and growth.

If you want to pasture steers next summer without grain, Russell suggests that you plan for a grain-feeding period in the fall to finish the cattle for their grade before you market them.

All Farmers Should Get Social Security Numbers at Once

Over five and a half million farm operators and farm employees will begin earning old-age and survivors insurance protection for themselves and their families beginning January 1, 1955.

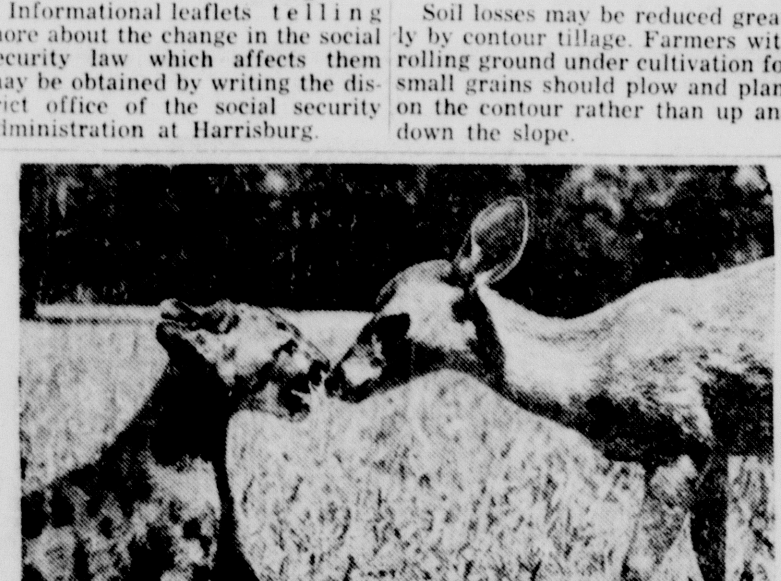

Farm operators — people farming for themselves — have not been covered by the social security law up to now. Beginning January 1, 1955 farm operators who make a profit of $400 or more in a year will begin earning social security protection.

People doing farm work for others as farm employees are already covered by the law if they work regularly for one farm operator. The new law brings old-age and survivors insurance protection to all farm employees who earn $100 or more cash wages in a year from any one farmer. A large number of farm operators and farm workers who are 65 years of age or older at this time may be eligible for social security payments after as little as two years coverage under this new program.

E. Bishop Hill, manager of the district office of the social security administration in Harrisburg, has stated that this change in the law means that the farm earnings of 2.6 million more farm workers will now count for the first time toward social security benefits for farmers and their families. Mr. Hill added that this means farmers will now be able to receive insurance payments in their old age based on earnings from farm work covered by the law and other members of the farmers family may be entitled to payments based on his social security account both during his retirement and after his death.

Farm operators and farm laborers who do not have social security numbers should obtain them at an early date from the Social Security Administration at Harrisburg.

Informational leaflets telling more about the change in the social security law which affects them may be obtained by writing the district office of the social security administration at Harrisburg.

Fall Applied Nitrogen Gives Better Yields

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Fall application of nitrogen at seeding time gave better wheat yields than spring top dressing with nitrogen in wheat fertilization tests at Southern Illinois university this year, Dr. Joseph P. Vavra, SIU agriculture department soils and crops specialist, said today.

The yield difference in tests was approximately three bushels per acre in favor of fall application. Adding 30 pounds of nitrogen (approximately 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate) per acre gave the most efficient use of the fertilizer. Vavra said similar trends were noted in other Illinois tests. The Illinois Farm Supply Company cooperated with contributions of fertilizer.

The testing program involved the comparison of fall and spring applications of nitrogen at rates of 15, 30, and 60 pounds per acre with each other and with an untreated check plot. All wheat plots had a starter application of 200 pounds per acre of 3-12-12 commercial fertilizer at seeding. The soil had a fairly high phosphorus and potassium content. Fall applications of nitrogen were broadcast at the time of seeding.

Vavra says that tight southern Illinois soils apparently permit full use of the fall-applied nitrogen without much loss through leaching. The wheat plants seemed to receive an extra boost in forming good root systems and getting an early vigorous spring growth.

Vavra points out, however, that the results might be different under other weather conditions and could not be taken as a blanket recommendation for fall nitrogen applications in the area.

Vavra reported the following per acre yields in the tests:

1. Untreated check plot, 27.1 bushels.
2. Fall broadcasted nitrogen applications at rates of:
 - a. Fifteen pounds per acre, 35.5 bushels.
 - b. Thirty pounds per acre, 41.4 bushels.
 - c. Sixty pounds per acre, 42.8 bushels.
3. Spring applications of nitrogen top-dressed at rates of:
 - a. Fifteen pounds per acre, 32.2 bushels.
 - b. Thirty pounds per acre, 38.5 bushels.
 - c. Sixty pounds per acre, 42.8 bushels.
4. Thirty pounds of nitrogen applied at the rate of half in the fall and half in the spring: 34.6 bushels.

Start Feeding Your Next Year's Hog Crop

Gilts selected for next year's brood sows should gain about a pound and a half a day, says a University of Illinois livestock specialist.

G. R. Carlisle, extension livestockman in the College of Agriculture, suggests that you feed a growing ration rather than a fattening ration after your gilts weigh 150 to 200 pounds. You'll insure yourself of a better pig crop next spring if you do.

Either hand-feed or self-feed the growing ration, Carlisle says. A good hand-fed ration would be made up of about 3.4 pound of a 40% protein supplement plus 4 1/2 to 5 pounds of grain for each gilt daily. Or you can feed 5 to 5 1/2 pounds of a 13 to 14 per cent complete ration.

If you'd rather self-feed the gilts, a ration made up of 40 per cent shelled corn, 25 per cent oats, 25 per cent alfalfa and 10 per cent protein supplement will be satisfactory.

Rye sown as a cover crop on corn fields after the corn has been harvested is good for cutting down soil losses during the winter months. In the spring the rye may be plowed under to increase the supply of organic matter in the soil. In an emergency it may be utilized for early pasture or grass silage.

Soil losses may be reduced greatly by contour tillage. Farmers with rolling ground under cultivation for small grains should plow and plant on the contour rather than up and down the slope.

Winter Care Adds Life to Farm Equipment

Take care of the gasoline engines on your farm equipment during the winter and you'll get lots more service out of them.

Jay Weber, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the first thing to do is check the engine cooling system to be sure there are no leaks before you put in antifreeze.

You may need to tighten or replace radiator and heater hoses, Weber says. Don't take a chance with hoses that are old and soft. Also, drain and flush the cooling system before you add antifreeze.

Alcohol is all right as an antifreeze in engines used for light work. But, because alcohol has a low boiling point, it is generally not suitable for tractors. Permanent-type antifreeze is best for tractors and for trucks and cars equipped with 180-degree thermostats. You can use antifreeze more than one season, but you run the risk of having a clogged cooling system.

It's especially important to keep the engine up to operating temperature during the winter, Weber says. Operating for a few hours at low temperature will cause sludge and lots of engine wear. A good thermostat cuts warm-up time and keeps the engine up to operating temperature. Change oil often than usual during the winter to rid the engine of harmful acids and sludge.

Ice in the gas line can be a real headache. Avoid this trouble by cleaning sediment bowls and draining water out of your gasoline storage tank now. Fill tractor and auto tanks at the end of the day's run to prevent water from condensing. And keep storage tanks as full as possible during winter months.

For quick, easy starting, keep the battery fully charged and re-ignite system in good repair. Check your instruction book for recommendations on changing to a lighter weight oil and taking care of other winter needs.

HOT BOX
A new approach to artificial drying is a crop dryer that's mounted on a wagon chassis and operates from the tractor power take-off. Electric temperature and safety controls are wired to the tractor battery. Heated air is supplied from a furnace and fan, explains Capper's Farmer. The manufacturer says it will handle up to 175 bushels of small grain and one ton of hay an hour.

LIBERACE TO MARRY—Liberace and the girl he will marry, "if she really loves me and wants to wait for me," are shown at a recent visit to a Hollywood club. She is Joane Rio, daughter of Eddie Rios, west coast head of the American Guild of Variety Artists. Liberace, who says he met Joane seven years ago, claims his marriage, if and when, must be a lasting thing, with no career interference. (NEA Telephoto)

"My checking account does my income tax bookkeeping"
Recently a customer told us of an "extra" value he got from his checking account here. "It's practically a whole bookkeeping system all by itself," he said, "when it comes to keeping records for income tax returns — and it's mighty simple."
"I just put all the money from my income into my checking account, pay all bills by check — and I've got a bona fide record and receipt for everything."
This is a timely suggestion for all. A checking account at this bank will help you keep YOUR income tax records, besides its other conveniences. Open one — this week!

Bingo was played with several winning prizes.
Following the opening of many lovely and useful gifts refreshments of ice cream, cookies and soft drinks were served.
Gifts were received from Bertha Allen, John Mitchell, Bessie Hatley, Flo Thomas, Janette Holland, June Jones, Isabella Cunningham, Lois Flannell, Lola Flannell, Mrs. Texel Parish, Sibyl Lasseter, Magline Diefenbach, Helen Dorris, Nellie Sweet, Jean Carrier, Brunett Morris, Alice Pardon, Norma Flannell, Venita Gilley, Mrs. Willis Moore, Fernie Moore, Sara Cole, Mrs. Joe Boyke, Shirley Stokich, Wendel Carrier and Romaine Dewar.

American Citizenship Program To Be Presented At Woman's Club Meeting Monday
Mrs. J. J. Klein will be chairman of the American Citizenship program to be presented Monday at 2 p. m. at the meeting of the Harrisburg Woman's Club. Hostesses will be Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. W. W. Damron and Mrs. Thoral Gaskins.
The meditation will be given by Mrs. Ralph Brown Sr., and music will be furnished by Mrs. Perry Moore. Miss Cuba Turner will be in charge of showing a film "Ticket to Freedom."
"I Speak for Democracy," a prize winning essay written by Elizabeth Evans, Akron, Ohio, will be read by Miss Bess Pemberton.
Members planning to go to the county federation meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Calvary Baptist church in Eldorado are asked to contact Mrs. J. W. Myers or Mrs. J. L. Miller. Entertainment for the program will be furnished by singers from Carbondale. A tea will follow.

First Baptist Helen Scherer Circle Meets
The Helen Scherer circle of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Bargman with eight members present.
Since this was the first meeting of the new year officers were elected to fill the following places: Chairman, Mrs. Walter Bargman; first vice, Mrs. Minnie Hetherington; program chairman, Mrs. Mima Woolard; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Corby Wickham; mission study, Mrs. L. I. Webb; community missions, Mrs. Cecil Abney; stewardship, Mrs. Haley Dyson; and young people's leader, Mrs. James Poyers.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Woolard, and the topic, "Our First W. M. S. in Singapore," was given by Mrs. Corby Wickham.
Refreshments of gingerbread, whipped cream and coffee were served by the hostess during the social hour.

Supreme Officer Guest Of Egyptian Shrine Tonight
At a special meeting of Egyptian Shrine No. 56, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, tonight at 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of Carbondale, supreme escort to the U. S. flag will be the guest of honor. Worthy high priestesses and watchmen of shepherds of neighboring Shrines will be officers for the evening. All sojourners of the Shrine and visiting sojourners have a cordial welcome.

Mrs. Esther Cardwell of Rock Island is visiting relatives and friends in Harrisburg this week.

Calendar of Meetings

Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the club room of the public library.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will meet in regular session at the hall Monday at 7:30 p. m. Florence Hancock, president.

The Lenore circle of the Presbyterian church will meet in the lower rooms of the church Monday at 7 p. m. Miss Gladys Gaskins will be hostess with Miss Jean Selby as assistant hostess.

Rev. Joe Morman, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be in charge of the W.C.T.U. broadcast over station WEBQ Monday from 2:30 to 2:45 p. m.

The Methodist young people will present the program at the Harrisburg sub-district meeting at Ridgway Monday at 7:30 p. m. All youth who wish to attend will meet at the new church location Monday at 6:45 p. m.

The I. O. O. F. lodge No. 386 will hold regular meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. James Suver, N. G.

At Junior Baptist Training Union Party
Fifty-five were present Friday evening at the party held in the Baptist youth building on North Main street, for boys and girls from 9 to 13, in the junior department of the Training Union.
The program began with a few musical selections arranged by Mary Dell Armistead and Rita Stump, who presented Belle Turner playing a saxophone solo, Chloe Clayton, who sang a solo, Mary Jo Bynum, who played a piano solo, and a piano-flute duet by Mary Dell and Rita. They also presented Sharon (Muffet) Ramf, who "gazed into the crystal ball" to answer such questions as "Who will win the football game," "Will I pass this year?" and "Will I get a rifle, a motorbike, etc."
Throwing a pingpong ball into a clown's mouth and other games amused before the program commenced.

Billy Abney led in prayer.
Mrs. S. J. Cole told the boys and girls the story of "The Talking Picture," concluding with the thought that Jesus talks with them also and tells them what they can do to help other boys and girls know their Christ.
Their department director, C. C. Porter, had promised them a magic show and this was the eagerly awaited concluding event of the entertainment. Many were willing to help in the magic which required audience participation and one little girl was made a member of the Dell-O-Dell club of Magic-ANSX when she performed perfectly a magic trick on the second try.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Creek were present and Mr. Creek, who is general director of the Training Union of the First Baptist church, presented each of the children with a candy favor as they left.

Charles E. Boyett, who makes all of the bulletins for the Training Union and many for the Sunday school, made their clown game box. He and Mrs. Boyett and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mugge and Charles Businaro were present to help serve sandwiches and soda pop.

Mrs. Evelyn Wallace Entertains Missionary Society
Mrs. Evelyn Wallace was hostess Thursday evening to the Missionary society of the First Church of God. Mrs. Bee Holland opened the meeting with prayer. The secretary-treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Evelyn Wallace. The chairman of the different departments reported concerning their progress in the last month, and new business included plans for a bake sale to be held next Saturday, and an invitation will be sent for the annual spring convention of the Missionary society to be held at Harrisburg.
Mrs. Eathel Fisher opened the worship service by reading Romans 5:15. Mrs. Verba Wallace gave the devotion, "What a Fortress is our Lord." The worship service was brought to a close with prayer by Mrs. Anna Rhine, Mrs. Margie Alexander and Mrs. Emma Hibbs. Mrs. Gladys Aldridge followed with an interesting lesson for the evening, the title being, "Doorstep Missions."

Mrs. Ethyl Keneipp closed the meeting with prayer. Delicious refreshments of pumpkin-chiffon pie, coffee, and apple cider were served by the hostess.
Others present besides those mentioned: Mrs. Kathleen Rector, Mrs. Bess Aldridge, Mrs. Elsie Dudley, Mrs. Everett Dillon, Mrs. Charles White, Miss Beulah Lievers, and two visitors, Mrs. Nell Hamilton and Mrs. Cressie Seldon.
The November meeting will be a potluck at the home of Mrs. Bee Holland.

Word was received by Mrs. Clyde Gibbons, and her daughter, Mrs. Colleen Walton, Ledford, Friday, of the death of a nephew and cousin, Homer Wilson, in Michigan, and they planned to leave today to go to his funeral.

No. 11 in a series of RARE CREATURES!

THE ANTIQUATED FREEZE
can turn the hottest ideas to ice
The FREEZE is an executive who inhabits aging firms. Sometimes is found perched on legal departments, or hovering over comptrollers' offices.
One blink of his eye can paralyze the best idea, and a waggle of his tongue can freeze an enthusiasm.
He turns thumbs down on any advertising program that would really work — because programs that work cost money.
Fortunately the FREEZE is a rare creature.
The wise executive realizes that advertising is part of the flesh and blood of a throbbing, prosperous enterprise. And all he asks is that the advertising work.
So he insists on newspaper advertising because newspapers are basic — the foundation of an intelligent ad schedule.
Because only the newspaper reaches just about everybody in every community. Because only the newspaper carries the sense of urgency — "If it's advertised today, I'd better go down and get it quick."
All business is local... and so are all newspapers!
This message prepared by BUREAU OF ADVERTISING, American Newspaper Publishers Association, and published in the interests of fuller understanding of newspapers by The Daily Register

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph
R. McCarthy has named one of his investigators, James N. Juliana, as acting executive director of his permanent investigating subcommittee staff.

Juliana testified in the Army-
McCarthy hearings last spring that he had ordered cropping of the famous photograph of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Pvt. G. David Schine.

Juliana succeeds Francis P.
Carr as the subcommittee's staff chief. Carr, one of the principals in the stormy dispute between the Army and McCarthy, has resigned effective Oct. 31 to join a trucking firm with headquarters in New York.

WASHINGTON — The Labor
Department reported Friday night that unemployment insurance claims continued to decline during the last week in September and the first week in October.

New claims totaled 241,000 during the week ended Oct. 2, a drop of 4,700 from the previous week and the lowest volume since the last week in October 1953.

New claims totaled 190,800 in the comparable week last year and 123,623 in the corresponding week of 1952.

Indiana University
Dedicates Ernie Pyle Building

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A three-day program dedicating a new journalism building at Indiana University in memory of Ernie Pyle opened today and drew dozens of well-known newspapermen to the Hoosier campus.

The new building in honor of the Scripps Howard correspondent who was killed covering the Pacific theater in World War II will be dedicated Sunday afternoon with an address by J. R. Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post.

The building, a two-story $500,-
000 structure of Indiana limestone, will be known as the Ernie Pyle hall. Pyle once was editor of the Indiana Daily Student, campus publication now printed in the new structure.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph
R. McCarthy has named one of his investigators, James N. Juliana, as acting executive director of his permanent investigating subcommittee staff.

Juliana testified in the Army-
McCarthy hearings last spring that he had ordered cropping of the famous photograph of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Pvt. G. David Schine.

Juliana succeeds Francis P.
Carr as the subcommittee's staff chief. Carr, one of the principals in the stormy dispute between the Army and McCarthy, has resigned effective Oct. 31 to join a trucking firm with headquarters in New York.

Facts, Figures IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

As a man who picked the Cleveland Indians to win the World Series, I finally discovered today why the New York Giants upset the apartment.

Vitamins!

That's it. The Giants dosed their heroes with B-12, the newest of the vitamin discoveries and one which—without any inference—is being used with great success on retarded children.

The U. S. vitamin corporation let me in on the secret. And maybe it proves something that Willie Mays was the only Giant who wouldn't take the vitamins—and that the National League batting champion with a .345 mark hit only 286 in the classic. That Dusty Rhodes must have taken an overdose.

Want Free Subs Back

As result of the great many football "cups," coaches in the major football colleges already are beginning a drive for return of free substitution. They won't get it. The smaller colleges have a better chance this way—and there are more little ones than there are big ones when it comes to a show-down vote.

Lack of stature is no detriment if an athlete has the will to win. Halfback Bill Rice of the University of Missouri proves this again—as a 5-foot, 8-inch 158-pound line-backer against SMU today. . . his pop set a precedent as a line-backer at East St. Louis, Ill., High School—and pop was only 5-feet 7.

Quotes left over from the World Series: "They belted me good in spring training." That's what Mike Garcia of the Indians said about the Giants before he ditched the third game. And the Giants proved they hadn't lost their touch as they got to him for five hits and four runs in three innings. . .

Old Teammates

Jim Martin and Leon Hart of the Detroit Lions' football team must know each other fairly well by now. They played together four years at Notre Dame and now are starting their fifth year together with the Lions. Which figures up to a heap of bumps and bruises. . .

I knew you were crazy to bet on the horses but now comes proof that horses are like people. Queen Elizabeth's Landau, which will run in the Washington, D. C., International at Laurel, Md., on Nov. 3, has been undergoing "psychotherapy" in an effort to "re-arrange nervous impulses with a view toward fostering inherent staying power." . . . Hum!

When the Colorado football team left the train at Lawrence for its game with Kansas, Frank Bernhardt was so immersed in reading a book that he rode right on to Kansas City and had to catch a train back. The book he was reading, when he missed his destination, was "Human Destiny." Which will probably knock a hole in the comic book market!

What Happens When Newspapers Stop?

What happens when there are no newspapers?

This is National Newspaper Week and a good time to think about just that.

To really find out you'd have to visit a country where newspapers are either non-existent or censored. But most of these nations, by a not-so-strange coincidence, are also run by dictators who would probably refuse to let you in.

There's an easier way. Talk to someone from New York City, which was "blacked out" by a newspaper strike about a year ago.

Television's Dorothy Kilgallen summed it up pretty well:

"Nothing could quite take the place of the newspaper, nothing could do all the things—the routine things, the odd things, the amusing things—that the newspaper does in its many different ways for its readers. While one woman said, 'Even if the news is bad, I guess I want to know it,' another—a girl at a cigarette counter—said, 'Wouldn't you hate to get married now? You can't even get your name in the paper, and I don't know how else I'll ever do it!'"

Benton Topples

Eldorado's Eagles, 32 to 6

Rangers Show Power; First Loss for Eagles

Eldorado was toppled from the list of the undefeated Friday night at Benton as the Rangers powerhouse their way to a 32-6 victory. It was the first loss in four starts for the Adams-coached Eagles and left Benton, coached by Ralph Davidson, with an identical record—three victories and one loss.

It was a case of a good, big team being just too much for a good, but smaller outfit.

Eldorado's deception, which worked to perfection against the Bull Dogs last week, was working off and on against Benton, but only once could the Eagles get a concerted drive underway. Before the first quarter was half over Eldorado had scored, but it turned out to be all the scoring for the Eagles.

All other scoring opportunities for Eldorado were either snuffed out by the hard-charging Rangers or through Eldorado fumbles. The Eagles had trouble holding onto the ball losing the ball four times on fumbles and on numerous other occasions juggling the ball just long enough to allow Benton linemen to crash through and drop the carrier.

Benton scored in every quarter, including two TDs in the final frame.

Eldorado's hopes ran high as the Eagles scored early. Whittier recovered a Benton fumble on the Eldorado 41 and in nine plays Eldorado had a touchdown.

A couple of plays resulted in no gain, then Potts, Eagle full-back, cracked through center of the line and raced to Benton's 18 yard line. Sutton, Gwaltney and Potts kept pecking away until the ball was on the two, then Clark, quarterback, passed to Stroke in the end zone for the TD. The extra point try failed.

Score 14-6 at Half.

Just before the quarter ended Gwaltney was back to punt for Eldorado and fumbled a high pass from center, the ball being downed on the 10. Ferdette, Benton full-back, made five yards in three tries, then took a pass and fought his way over the final stripe. A half dozen or more Eagles were on Ferdette, but couldn't get him down. The extra point was scored on a place kick.

Eldorado had a drive underway in the second quarter, but a completed pass was fumbled on Benton's 20 and recovered by the Rangers.

The strike lasted only 11 days, not long enough for unscrupulous politicians to take advantage of public ignorance. Since it was peace-time there was no enemy to stir up panic through uncontrollable rumor and falsehood; there was no forthcoming election to perhaps go the wrong way because there were no newspapers to cover the political activity.

But just the same, 11 days was long enough to make everyone mighty uncomfortable.

Unhappiest of all, perhaps, were the merchants—caught with Christmas sales "ready to go" and no newspaper ads to bring customers to their stores. One merchant put it quite neatly: "If I can't advertise, I'm dead."

Men without work learned how much the "help wanted" ads could mean. Bevo Francis, the sensational basketball player, found himself playing before a surprisingly small crowd in Madison Square Garden in his New York debut—no newspaper stories ahead of time. Radio and TV, without newspaper "logs," depended on hunt-and-fish audiences.

One newspaper reported many husbands and wives, with no papers to read, getting into fights out of sheer boredom.

And so on down the line. Nearly everyone in the vast metropolis discovered things he had forgotten about how much the newspaper meant to him. The entire city began to feel as if the carrier boy had thrown the paper on top to the roof—and at the neighbor's too, so there was none to borrow.

Radio and television did their best to "fill in" for the absent newspapers. But news-hungry listeners found themselves getting just the highlights of a few big stories over and over, when they wanted all the details. Time was the big bugaboo. Radio and TV couldn't reach all listeners at once, and had to keep repeating themselves for those who just tuned in.

Two 15-minute newscasts were woefully short. One announcer showed it would take an announcer nearly five hours to read all the news from one daily newspaper. Only in the newspaper can the reader do his own selecting of what interests him and what doesn't.

Mosaic refers to Moses or the laws.

gers. After making a first down the Rangers were held and Sanders went back in punt formation, but elected to run. Apparently trapped way back, he outran a couple of would-be tacklers, picked up his blockers and raced 70 yards for a TD. Again a place kick for the point was good and Benton led 14-6 at half time.

Power Offense By Benton

Midway in the third Benton recovered a fumble and started a drive that ended with Dillon crashing through for a TD. The kick for point was blocked.

In the fourth Southern scored on a quarterback sneak and Ferdette later carried practically the entire Eagle team 10 yards as he bulled his way along for a score.

Benton's offense was power and more power, with four or five backs showing unusual drive, operating behind a big, hard-charging line. Next Friday they will test their strength against the highly rated Herrin Tigers.

Next opponent for Eldorado is Carmi on the Eagle field. Carmi's only loss was a 12-7 defeat by Benton in the season's opener for both schools.

Starting lineups last night: Eldorado — Lyons and Stroke, ends; W. Laffoon and Putnam, tackles; Roberts and Lovellette, guards; B. Laffoon, center; Clark, quarterback; Gwaltney and Sutton, half-backs; Potts, fullback; Benton — Whitlow and Thomas, ends; Charles Wilkerson and Neve, tackles; Jim Wilkerson and Lynch, guards; South, center; Southern, quarterback; Sanders and Atterberry, halfbacks and Ferdette, full-back.

The officials: "Abe" Martin and William Freeberg, Carbon-dale; Bob Groves, Marion and Lyle Bailey, Du Quoin.

Centralia Battles Out 13-7 Win Over Murphysboro; Rock Island and Moline Tie

SPRINGFIELD — Centralia and Aurora East tucked away key prep football wins at opposite ends of Illinois Friday night while Moline came off with an impressive tie.

Centralia's Orphans battled Murphysboro for a 13-7 victory in a game heralded as a test of strength between the powers of the South Seven and the Southwestern Egyptian conferences.

It was Murphysboro's first loss in four tries. Centralia kept its slate unsullied, with four consecutive triumphs.

Another clash between unbeaten teams saw Aurora East ruin La Salle-Peru's homecoming by trimming the Cavaliers 41-13. Don Griffin's Tomcats remained in first place in the Big Eight with the win.

Rock Island came a cropper for the second week end in a rout, settling for a 7-7 tie with arch-foe Moline. A 20-20 deadlock with Clinton, Iowa, last week cut off a 23-game Rock Island victory streak.

Urbana Smothers Mattoon

Chenoa kept one of Illinois' longest winning records intact by whipping Gridley 21-7 for its 17th consecutive win.

Urbana's Tigers climbed into a first place Big 12 tie with Decatur, smothering Mattoon 40-0. Unbeaten Pekin launched its Big 12 campaign by topping the Lincoln Rail-splitters 13-6.

In a non-conference tilt, Decatur absorbed its first loss, a 12-6 decision dropped to University City, Mo. Champaign nipped Joliet Catholic 14-7. Bloomington downed Bloomington Trinity 8-0, and Danville took a 35-0 beating from Thornton of Harvey.

Rounding out the schedule of Big 12 games with non-league foes, Peoria Central blanked Peoria Spalding 28-0, Champaign licked Joliet Catholic 14-7, and Springfield lost 12-7 to Springfield Lanphier. Harrisburg, W. Frankfort Win Harrisburg moved into a tie with Centralia for first in the South Seven by finishing off Mount Vernon 6-0. West Frankfort walloped Marion 21-6 in the only other conference win.

Mendota galloped off to a 41-6 victory over Geneseo to start its conference schedule in the south-west division of the North Central circuit. Sterling shut out De Kalb 20-0 in the top game of the north-east division, while Princeton smashed Spring Valley 33-13 in a

Score on Beal to Polk Pass; Presented Shrine Trophy After Game

A pass from Tony Beal to Charles Polk over the goal line gave the HTHS Bull Dogs a 6-0 South Seven conference victory over the Mt. Vernon Rams at Mt. Vernon Friday night.

The game was the third of a series of five sponsored by Shriners, with partial proceeds going to the Shriners' crippled children's fund, and it was an important contest for Harrisburg, since three victories will give a team the large Shrine trophy, and Mt. Vernon had won the first two of the series.

The trophy was awarded to Harrisburg for possession, during the next year at least, by J. Curtis Starr, representing Mt. Vernon Shriners, in a short ceremony following the game. Co-captains Charles Polk and Eddie Seiright and Coach Lawrence Calufetti received the trophy, with Lee Skaggs of Eldorado present to represent the local Egyptian Shrine club.

Alertness Required

Statistics of the game would indicate the Bull Dogs were in complete charge of the game all the way; in fact, Mt. Vernon never came inside Harrisburg's 25-yard line, but the Rams were a potential threat with some good ground gainers and a passing attack all the way—and for one play after the game time had run out.

Alertness was required of the Bull Dogs throughout the game, and they made a minimum of errors, presenting a better than usual defense against the passing attack. The Rams attempted 11 passes, completing two. One pass was intercepted, and a second would have been an interception had Harrisburg not been penalized on the play.

The Rams made seven first downs. They attempted seven passes, completing the one from Beal to Polk for the touchdown and one from Polk to Seiright for 23 yards in the third quarter.

Harrisburg kicked to start the game and a 27-yard run by the Ram Quarterback Keller was a quick threat until the Bull Dogs steadied on their own 25 yard line. Harrisburg's punt was short and the Rams returned to the Bull Dog 25 line but couldn't pass it. After another Harrisburg punt, Mt. Vernon had the ball on their 35 as the first quarter ended.

The Bull Dogs again held, and after taking the ball on their 45, then losing five on a penalty, Gary Trammel scatted 35 yards to the Mt. Vernon 25 line. McKenzie and Tony Beal took the ball on toward the goal, with Beal making the final count on two first downs, then passing to Polk over the goal line for the lone score of the game. The conversion attempt was short.

The third quarter was marked by Jack Wright's interception of a Mt. Vernon pass in Harrisburg's territory and by Seiright's 23-yard gain on a pass from Polk, the quarter ending with the Bull Dogs in possession on the Mt. Vernon 35. First Down on Penalty

The Bull Dogs took the ball to the Mt. Vernon 23, with Beal making a first down at that point, but couldn't score on three straight passes and punts. Mt. Vernon made their longest pass completion of the night for 25 yards, but couldn't gain further. An exchange of punts put Mt. Vernon on their own 19, and it looked as if the game were completely safe for Harrisburg, but things then began to happen.

Keller was almost smothered in attempting to pass for Mt. Vernon, and had to run, making a startling recovery and first down.

Held again, the Rams punted, but the kicker was roughed, and Mt. Vernon got a first down on the penalty. Williams recovered for the Bull Dogs on Keller's fumble.

Youngsters Play Oldsters Sunday At Town Park

Sunday at 2 p. m. the good young ball players of Harrisburg will be concentrated on one club and they will face the older players from the Nash and Merchants teams plus several other ex-players who have retired in the last few years.

Batteries for the younger players will be Bill McKew, Don Wallace and Jack Nolen pitchers, and Dick Romonosky, catcher. Lineup for the oldsters will be Donie Wilson, Willie Bardos and Bill Hull catching, Buzz Kennedy, Kiki Parker, Joy Hatcher, Lyman Partain and Floyd York pitchers, Merle Dailey, Frank Logsdon, John Henshaw, Dick Odie, Charles Rauh, Harold Guiley and Tugg Lynn infielders, and Joe Maszaros, James Hay, Lou Elms, Gene Stone, Matt Whitmore and Logan Stapleton outfielders.

Galatia Defeats Christopher in Cross Country Meet

Galatia scored a 27-28 victory over Christopher in cross country Friday afternoon.

Ken Cockrum again paced the winning Galatia runners, crossing the finish line ahead of the pack. His time for the two-mile course was 11:05, and keeps him undefeated for this season.

The winning Galatia team consisted of Cockrum, Glenn Clarida, Gene McFarland, Joe McPherson and Albert Cantrell.

Adam to Zeb

Adam was the first man to walk this earth. Zeb is a young fellow from the Middle West. Centuries separate them from one another. But they have a great experience in common... Each has walked with God.

The names of Adam and Zeb are pages apart in the encyclopedia of human history. And in between them are countless millions of other names. Each belongs to a man who has lived, and who has had opportunity to walk with God.

Churchmen's Week, soon to be celebrated throughout our land, is the symbol of the unity of America's men in their worship of God, their Creator, and of Jesus Christ, their Saviour. Participate in the services and rallies which will mark this week of spiritual dedication in your community.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'God's Answer to Job's Perplexity'

Job 38:1-7; 42:1-6; 10
GOLDEN TEXT: "Be still, and know that I am God." (Psalm 46:10)

INTRODUCTION: What is the problem that faces you? What is the burden of your heart? Did you not know that there is a victorious answer to your every problem and burden? This is not idle speculation. These are not the words of an idealistic dreamer. These are words expressing a clear and reasonable fact.

The answer to your difficulties lies in your ability to trust God. Your lack of faith in Him will prolong the most desired answer to your problems.

In the chapters immediately preceding today's scripture lesson we find Job in conversation with his friends. While they are giving him some bad counsel a storm blows up. Elihu makes a pretty speech about the storm and about God. He reproved Job seriously and extolled the justice of God. No doubt Elihu had much ability, but he was lacking in vision. God answered out of a whirlwind.

I GOD IS GREAT (38:1-7)
Yes, Elihu's speech was a good one, but he missed the point of God's testing Job completely. Read (v. 2) where God says, "Who is this that darkens counsel by words without knowledge?"

What an apt expression for today! There are men and women of ability today in every realm of life. However, their lack of knowledge of God has created a state of confusion.

Notice that in V. 3 God speaks to Job and tells him to stand up like a man and answer his Maker. Where was he when the "foundations of the world were laid?" How did he suspend this world in space? Perhaps he would like to get out his little man made measuring line and try to put the power of God through the little human brain.

It would be a good thing if some of the so called wise and learned

Additional Church Notes

men of our day would face God in these questions. They need to know the greatness of God. They would probably be like Job in chapter 40, verse 4, and answer: "I am a vile man. What shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand over my mouth." In other words, "I will keep my mouth shut."

II GOD IS WONDERFUL (42:1-3)
Modern man too often thinks of God as being a Superman. Or, they think of him as being something like themselves, only greater in power. Modern man needs to get a new vision of the greatness and wonder of God. God is really "too wonderful" for the limited intellect of man.

When men begin to get a glimpse of the glory of God, they begin to realize really how wonderful is God and how limited and small are they. Words cannot express how glorious and powerful and wonderful is God.

III GOD WANTS YOUR FELLOWSHIP (42:4-6, 10)
Man's greatest opportunity is to have fellowship with God. Job thought that he had known God. His conviction concerning God came only by "learning of the ear." Now, he knows God, because he has come face to face with Him.

My! what a difference it makes when we come face to face with God. And, this blessed privilege is ours for the asking. You may know God by having daily communion and fellowship with Him. Perhaps He has already approached you through sickness, sorrow, financial reverses, blessings or through some great and happy event. Did you recognize the hand of God in that hour? He was inviting you to renew your daily fellowship with Him.

CONCLUSION: Our churches are full of people who know God only by "hearing of the ear." Job learned to know God through his trying experiences. Read the latter end of his life and see how God blessed him beyond his fondest dreams. God is awaiting the opportunity to bless you! It is God's plan to use human agency in carrying on His great work here on earth. What are you doing for Him? Remember He is the answer to your every problem and burden.
